They live principally on pumpkins, bananas, rice and garlick. The island in this province is full of what the natives call "Americano developee." Americans who have been here long enough to speak Spanish, came with some company or colony, have been most awfully treated by those who induced them to come. Most of them I met are from LaGloria, and were fully developed by the "Cuban Steamship & Land Company." All have their tale of woe and duplicity to tell. They meet the incoming steamers at the wharves like backman in the United States do the trains, each offering States do the trains, each offering his services to you as guide and interpreter. He looks as wise as an owl and as solemn as a jack ass; tells you he is agent for the only good land on the Island that can be bought; if in the city he can show bought; if in the city he can show you the best American hotel and incidentally takes you where you can get the best American beer and red liquor as our friend John P. Wall calls it. He tells you he is sorry he is a little short of cash just now or he would ask you to "wet your whistle."

In going four miles you pass over all grades of color. The wood land is the best and only farming lands on the Island so far as I can judge. They are low and flat and vary in color as do the others covered with hardwood growth. As a general thing the trees are small, there being but few more than 8 inches in diameter—200 to I less than three inches. The growth of wood is unlike any I ever saw before. Gentlemen: — Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarth, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few they according to your directions the noises covered, and so-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased car has been entirely restored.
